Eaton Corporation Expansion

In October 2007, Allegheny County Executive Dan Onorato announced the expansion of Eaton Corporation's electrical group headquarters in Moon Township. The 120,000-square-foot expansion combined Eaton's technology center and corporate offices and will add at least 30 new jobs within three years.

The expansion will complement Eaton's existing 140,000-square-foot headquarters. The facility houses global technology design, engineering, development and training functions, as well as executive customer and product demonstration areas.

Eaton's expansion also showcases innovation in sustainable building design as it is a Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design, or LEED, certified building.
